In today's climate, disasters are occurring more frequently than ever. In many cases, workers may be afraid to go to work in any area near an affected zone; they will be acutely concerned about commuting to work that involves any long distance (i.e. to a remote facility) and certainly not inclined to be a distance from their families. What can businesses do to prepare for and survive these threats? Agility Recovery Solutions believes we have the solution by offering a facility to provide a working environment virtually anywhere a business chooses to relocate their staff.

We provide the workspace, satellite communications, desktops and Internet service, all in a mobile recovery center so you can recover your business in the event of a disaster. In essence, this solution allows for full business recovery, just outside the perimeter of the occurrence - and allows your workers to go home at night

Agility has been a premier provider of onsite recovery solutions across the United States and Canada since 1989. Formerly GE Capital IT Solutions Disaster Recovery Services, the company has a long and successful history in the Business Continuity industry:

- 3,000 North American customers, many Fortune 1000 companies
- Nearly 100 recoveries and more than 300 tests per year
- 100% fulfillments of our contracts and declarations
- Over $35M Quick-Ship IT rolling inventory
- Over 80,000 Mobile Recovery units.
- Satellite IP phone service and internet connectivity.
- Access to over 10,000 portable emergency power generators.
- Priority relationships with national providers for onsite telephony, electricians, carpenters, and HVAC services.
- Exclusive partnerships with a wide range of data storage back up and retrieval companies.

We want to offer the small to medium marketplace access to our inventory and disaster recovery network.
